Experiential Learning Realized
Employee performance is key to your business. Today, businesses require a variety of tools to propel employee engagement and retention while using next-generation technology to drive productivity and improve operational efficiency.

Enter Augmented Reality
According to ISACA, 70% of consumers believe that using Augmented Reality (AR)-enhanced devices in their everyday lives could help them learn new skills. And for companies, AR is bridging gaps by improving skills-building in real time while delivering real business benefits. According to IDC, business leaders using AR are experiencing greater efficiency, increased safety and improved knowledge transfer among employees.

Teamwork AR pairs the interactive power of AR on any device, anywhere in your employees’ workflow, with the 35 years of expertise CGS has in creating rich experiences through technology-enabled custom content to solve the ROI challenge. It seamlessly aligns workers’ needs with real-time collaboration and built-in business metrics.

- Product, sales and maintenance training transformed – real-time, in the flow of work
- Cost-effective, efficient deskless worker support across all field services, operations, manufacturing, healthcare and more
- Expensive or complex training at employees’ fingertips in a safe, risk-free environment
